An invitation from Rev. Emily Sharman

We look forward to welcoming you to All Saints with Holy Trinity here in the heritage quarter of Loughborough.

Our church is Loughborough's only grade 1 listed building and is a large, dramatic 14th century parish church which, although full of historical charm, is home to a vibrant inclusive and intercultural worshipping community. We endeavour to welcome our local community in all its diversity over this special exhibition weekend.

Last summer, as part of our calling to embrace our multicultural parish, we embarked on a schools and community art project.

This weekend is the culmination of a project where four local schools and around 400 children have explored the theme of 'Inspirational People' through art and writing, and choosing their own 'heroes' from across the globe.

Meanwhile, the church has commissioned artist Eddy Aigbe to make four paintings of 'saints,' inspirational people both ancient and modern from the Christian faith around the world. Our paintings reflect values of hospitality, vision and sacrifice and the inclusive values of All Saints in the context of 21st Century Loughborough.

We are also delighted to be joined by design students at Loughborough University who have created virtual wall murals, inspired by the medieval practice of storytelling through art. We hope you are able to join us this weekend as we celebrate cultural diversity and inspirational people from all times and all places.
